Ohio GOP Set To Ram Budget Bill Through

Democrats Hoping For Amendments To Restore Cuts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Majority Republicans in the Ohio House were prepared to signal the beginning of the end today by ramming through the trimmed-down budget bill.

The measure would provide slightly more than $2 billion to operate the state government from mid-1961 to mid-1963. Democrats, unsuccessful thus far with amendments to restore some of the cuts, were prepared to try to amend from the floor.

Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, who contends the Republicans are cutting into a budget that already is bare - minimum, says important state services will be curtailed and the result will be waste rather than economy. Republican House Speaker Roger Cloud says the governor is showing no concern for those who foot the bill, and notes: "The adjusted general fund appropriations are almost $100 million above those adopted two years ago . . ."

If the budget bill clears the House during this 19th legislative work week as expected, the leader of the Republican majority in the Senate, C. Stanley Mechem, says the Senate Finance Committee will begin consideration of it Tuesday.

Floor action on the budget bill generally signals the beginning of the final stretch in an Ohio legislative session. Barring unforeseen circumstances, the measure should reach the Senate floor the second or third week in June.

Mechem has indicated he believes as much as $10-$15 million more might be cut.

Printers and proofreaders have been working at top speed to get copies of the bill ready for members of the House since it was recommended out of committee Wednesday.

Senators completed action Wednesday on amended House bills which would:

Delete the requirement that publishers submit copies of any schoolbook for sale in the state to the head of the Ohio Department of Education.

Let any farm truck of the three-quarter ton pickup type or smaller be used noncommercially as a passenger automobile.

Permit sheriffs to contract to provide deputies for policing subdivisions and other governmental agencies.

In the House, a bill to increase penalties for selling a firearm to a minor fell five votes short of the 70 needed for passage. Opponents suggested someone innocently trying to help a youngster learn to hunt or target shoot might become liable. The vote was 65-51.

Among measures passed by the representatives, and sent on by the Senate, was one to require county auditors to have a financial report for the previous fiscal year published in locally circulated newspapers with prosecution for failure to do so.

Representatives went along with an amended Senate bill to let commissioners of Fayette, Highland, Jackson, Pike, Ross and Scioto counties sell acreage of Mt. Logan Sanitarium in Ross County to Ohio University. The counties jointly own it.

Federal Suit Hits Marion Housing

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The Federal Housing Administration is seeking a $288,045 default judgment from the operators of a Marion housing project.

Russell E. Ake, U. S. district attorney, filed suit in Federal District Court Wednesday against the 801 Windsor, Inc. of Marion.

The action stems from a $332,500 loan obtained by the company from the National Bank of Cleveland in July, 1950. The loan was insured under the National Housing Act.

Ake said the housing operators failed to complete payments on the loan. He asked $280,885 as the unpaid balance and $7,160 in interest.

Ohio Amish Win Legal Fight To Operate Their Own Schools

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's nearly 4,000 Amish have won at least until there is a change in present laws their long battle to operate their own schools.

The Ohio Supreme Court Wednesday went along with an appellate court decision which threw out an injunction to ban operation of schools failing to meet minimum state standards.

That ruling, which reversed earlier common pleas court action granting an injunction, said, "We find nothing in the statute which makes the operation of these Amish schools unlawful . . ."

Floods Press Upon Levees In Midwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Near record flood crests pressed against weakened and soggy levees in section of the Midwest flood belt today as workers toiled around-the-clock to hold back the surging waters.

Flood conditions appeared the most serious in sections of Southern Illinois, where six counties have been designated disaster areas.

Although swollen rivers and streams still plagued areas in Indiana, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Ohio and Kentucky, the threat of major flooding reportedly eases. Skies were generally clear across the entire flood belt.

The floods, in less than a week, have caused 25 deaths injured more than 100 persons and forced some 1,250 families from their homes in Indiana, Missouri, Southern Illinois, Kansas and Kentucky. Property damage runs into the millions of dollars.

Working under the glare of big spotlights, flood fighters in Lawrenceville, Ill., hurriedly shored up weakening levees against the flooding Embarrass River. National Guard units were sent into the southeastern Illinois town of 5,500 Wednesday. Units also were dispatched to other critical areas.

Across the state, at New Athens about 25 miles southeast of St. Louis, the rain-swollen Kaskaskia River poured waters through the town and the 2,000 residents started evacuation operations.

Peace Talkers Await Silencing Of Laos Guns

GENEVA (AP)—The Big Three Western powers were reported ready to take their seats Friday in a conference about the future of Laos, basing the decision on word received in London today that organized fighting has ceased in the jungle kingdom.

There was no official confirmation from the United States, Britain and France that they had dropped earlier reservations to participating in the conference if a cease-fire was not certified.

But sources close to the Western delegations said that, in view of the London news from Laos, they probably would agree to sit down at the conference table with their Eastern opposites.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and President Kennedy's roving ambassador, W. Averell Harriman, already are in Geneva. So is Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. Red China's foreign minister, Chen Yi, arrived this afternoon.

Lord Home of Britain and Maurice Couve de Murville of France were due later in the day and were reported planning to meet with Rusk to express official willingness of the three to take part in the conference.

A Foreign Office spokesman in London said an assurance that or-

Probes Opened In Ratterman Vice Crusade

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—Officials of Newport and Campbell County have opened separate probes into the arrest of George Ratterman, former pro football player and reform candidate for sheriff.

Mayor Ralph Mussman named a police captain and a lieutenant Wednesday to investigate the vice raid in which Ratterman was arrested in a room with a night club dancer.

Ratterman, 38, contended he had been drugged in an effort to trump up charges him as a reform candidate.

That led Judge Ray L. Murphy of Campbell Circuit Court and Commonwealth Attorney William J. Wise to make plans for the grand jury to study the matter.

Ratterman, known for his quarterbacking years with the Cleveland Browns, contended he fell asleep late Monday night in the Glenn Hotel apartment of a football acquaintance, Tito Carinci, 32, and was aroused by someone trying to pull off his trousers.

He said police were in the room as he awoke, as was the woman, identified later as Juanita Jean Hodges, 26, whom Ratterman said he had never seen before.

The former pro football player said his family doctor, Dr. Carl Anderson had private blood tests made after Ratterman was freed on bail, and these indicated he had been given chloral hydrate or knock-out drops.

U.S. Holds Cuban Invasion Survivors Prisoners on Isle

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is reason to believe that the United States is holding survivors of the Cuban invasion forces incommunicado—prisoners, if you will—on a Caribbean island.

And there is evidence that the U. S. troubles with communism in Central and South America are just beginning.

The first rumor about the U. S.-held survivors of the invasion, some of whom reportedly are wounded, reached the U. S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay soon after the military effort collapsed.

The grapevine there is so efficient that reports of activities in Havana, 600 miles west, sometimes reach the base before they are broadcast by the Castro regime.

Within hours after the grapevine report of U. S.-held survivors reached the base, the Castro captives from the abortive invasion—who were being interrogated in Havana on television—began talking of a particular island, Vieques.

They said they had been trained for the invasion at the U. S. Marine base at Vieques, which is just a 30-minute helicopter ride from San Juan, Puerto Rico.

While the rumor about the Vieques prisoners was seeping into Guantanamo, it was also circulating in San Juan and New York. A Navy officer talked by radio to the naval station at San Juan, asking if newsmen wanting to check on the rumors could be admitted to Vieques.

The answer was that no one would be admitted to the base without special permission from Washington.

On the assumption that training bases are normally open to visitors, efforts were made to gain access to Vieques through the Central Intelligence Agency and the White House.

The CIA was noncommittal. A White House spokesman said it would not assist in the matter of entry.

While the Vieques operation was

Registration To Resume

Voter registration will resume at the Pickaway County Board of Elections office Saturday.

It was announced today that persons who have not registered with the local Board of Elections may do so beginning Saturday and on through September 27.

Voters are not required to register again unless they have had a change of address or change in name since registering.

Election board officials reminded that persons who will be 21 years of age, on or before November 4, may register beginning Saturday.

The Board of Elections office is located in the basement of the courthouse. Office hours are from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Monday through Friday and from 9 a. m. to noon on Saturdays.

kept secret, the New York Times has reported the story of Dr. Rodolfo Nodal Tarafa, 27, a lawyer and member of the anti-Castro invasion forces.

Nodal said he and 16 other volunteers had been held captive at gunpoint in Guatemala by CIA agents because they refused to serve in the invasion forces under a man they described as a murderer in the regime of dictator Fulgencio Batista.

The Washington Post reported these men were arrested as mutineers.

One consequence of the invasion flop apparently has been a great upsurge in Communist activities in Central and South America.

Early this month a chartered Cuban airliner landed at Kingston Jamaica, to refuel. Out stepped 35 Communists, including two women, who said they had departed from Recife, Brazil, for Havana.

They made no bones about the fact that they were going to Havana to learn how Fidel Castro carried Cuba into the Soviet Orbit.

At a post-Cuban invasion back-ground briefing, a high Pentagon official said the United States could expect more revolutions and more Castros south of the border.

Weather Puts Ohio Farmers 3 Weeks Behind Schedule

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The unusually heavy rainfall and cool weather in Ohio this spring have put the state's farmers three or more weeks behind the normal schedules.

Some farmers have been unable to plow their fields at all and most have some land which has not been touched.

Agriculture extension agents in some counties report as little as 10 per cent of the land intended for corn has been worked. They say the bad weather is causing more farmers to sign up for the federal feed grain program rather than take a chance on a late corn crop.

However, Dwight Wise, chairman of the Ohio Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee administering the program, says he believes the farmers have been drawn by the terms of the program and not driven into it by the weather.

Oats seem to be the only crop where the delay definitely will reduce production. Few areas report more than a third of the crop planted and extension agents say the farmers do not intend to plant more, except for a few farmers who will go ahead with the oats just as a cover.

Little progress has been made by vegetable farmers. They usually have their land ready to plant by the time significant danger of frost is past, May 10 in the southern part of the state and a little later in the north. Much of the land will not be tillable until there have been four or five days in a row without rain.

Only slight damage has been done to the state's fruit crop, although the weekly crop and weather bulletin of the Department of Agriculture reports extensive frost damage to peach blossoms in a

Astronaut Receives $14.38 Bonus Pay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr. earned an extra $14.38 for riding a rocket into space last Friday.

As a commander on flying duty, Shepard is entitled to an extra $230 a month. He has to fly four hours a month for it.

His space voyage—302 miles down the Atlantic from Cape Canaveral, Fla.—took 15 minutes. Thus, he earned one-sixteenth of his flight pay for May, or $14.78.

Shepard gets no special compensation for serving as an astronaut. In a sense, he flew so fast Friday it cost him money.

Brazil Shuns U.S. Plan To Act against Castro

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—President Janio Quadros' government has answered a U. S. appeal for joint hemisphere action against the Castro regime by saying it opposes foreign meddling in Cuba.

Apparently rejecting Washington's view that Fidel Castro has set up a Soviet-type government, Foreign Minister Alfonso Arinos said Brazil is against "any kind of foreign interference, directly or indirectly in order to impose on Cuba any form of government."

four-county area around Dayton.

Charley Knotts, extension agent in Zanesville, said the outlook for fruit was good there and other crops are late but not enough to be alarming.

Daie Glass at Chillicothe reports, however, that very few farmers are planting and the few who have crops in are worried about flood damage in the bottomlands.

C. B. Stewart of Wood County was the least pessimistic of the extension agents, saying farmers are behind but there have been worse years.

U.S. Veep Arrives in Viet Nam

SAIGON South Viet Nam (AP)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson arrived in this strategic Southeast Asian nation today, bringing assurances that the United States will stand by its allies in this part of the world in the face of Communist danger.

The vice president, on a round-the-world mission for President Kennedy, came here for an on-the-spot study of Communist aggression in a guerrilla war in which an estimated 400 to 500 Vietnamese are being killed every month.

Beset by an estimated 12,000 Communist rebels, South Viet Nam is the first Asian stop for the vice president in his survey of the growing Red menace in this part of the world.

Johnson reportedly will offer $40 million more in arms aid to enable Diem to boost his 150,000 man army by another 20,000. American aid to South Viet Nam since her 1954 independence has already topped $2 billion, about one fourth of that military.

During a stopover in Honolulu Johnson disclosed the United States will also set up a central intelligence organization—probably in Saigon—to coordinate all U. S. intelligence in Southeast Asia.

While holding a striking force in readiness, U. S. military authorities in Hawaii told Johnson that American troops should not be sent to South Viet Nam at this time.

U.S. Winter Wheat Forecast Is Shaved

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department today forecast this year's winter wheat crop at 1,095,697,000 bushels.

This estimate is 2,703,000 bushels less than last month's forecast of 1,099,000,000 bushels. It compares with last year's crop of 1,117,131,000 bushels, the second largest of record, and with the 1950-51 average of 840,244,000 bushels.

No forecast was given for spring wheat, but a crop of 288 million bushels has been indicated on the basis of growers' planting plans and recent acreage yields.

Kennedy Names Special Youth Crime Panel

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today asked Congress to authorize a five-year program of federal action to combat juvenile delinquency.

Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff estimated the cost for the first year at $10 million.

Along with a special message sent to Congress, Kennedy issued an executive order establishing a special committee on "juvenile delinquency and youth crime," to coordinate federal activities and to seek new ways of fighting juvenile delinquency.

Kennedy named to the committee Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg and Ribicoff.

The attorney general was named committee chairman.

In his message to Congress, the president said there has been an increase in juvenile delinquency in both urban and rural communities.

"Juvenile delinquency and youth offenses," he said, "diminish the strength and vitality of our nation."

The legislation he proposed would provide federal grants to any state, local or any other public or nonprofit agency for the evaluation and demonstration of techniques in fighting juvenile delinquency.

Federal grants also would be available for training and employment of experts in the field.

The proposed bill also would authorize technical assistance to state and local governments and private agencies for short-term training and instruction in technical matters related to the prevention and control of juvenile delinquency.

The President also announced the appointment of David L. Hackett as executive director of the Committee on Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Crime, effective immediately.

Hackett, 34, was a member of the U. S. Olympic hockey team in 1948 and 1952. During the presidential campaign he was director of correspondence in Kennedy's campaign team. He was president of a Montreal publishing firm.

Kennedy proposed a five-year program of action starting next July 1, the beginning of a new fiscal year.

Kennedy had said in his State of the Union message that the problem of juvenile delinquency demands "improved (law) enforcement and new legislative safeguards."

Flood Damages Ohio Bridge, Culvert

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state highway department expects to have a temporary bridge ready to carry U. S. 127 traffic over Nine Mile Creek within ten days.

The 106 foot bridge two miles north of the Butler County community of Seven Mile was weakened by flood waters. Site plans for the temporary structure will be prepared from aerial photos to be taken this week.

On U. S. 42 south of Xenia, twin 142-foot-long corrugated metal culverts were heavily damaged and 120 feet of new pavement was ripped out by flood waters.

Temporary detours have been set up to take traffic around each bridge.

No estimate has been made on repairs to U. S. 42 but the U. S. 127 bridge will cost about $100,000 to repair, the department says.

Robbery Victim Admits Shooting Tale Is Hoax

CLEVELAND (AP)—An East-lake man who had told police he was kidnapped, shot and robbed of $2,438 in bowling league funds admitted Wednesday night he shot himself "to make the robbery look more realistic," police reported.

Eugene Madansky, 29, made the admission to police from a bed at Metropolitan General Hospital's prison ward. Madansky suffered wounds in his chest and thigh. His condition was described as good.

Space Theories Change Fast

Knowledge and theories of the nature of outer space are changing faster these days than textbooks are able to record them. Before natural science has had an opportunity to fully digest the meaning and effect of the Van Allen radiation belts surrounding our planet, new evidences of other misconceptions about the composition of the universe are falling earthward at an impossible fast clip.

Among the latest theories to be seriously questioned by man's penetration of that vast domain outside this planet's influence are those concerning the sun's contribution to solar system gases. It was commonly believed that while the area between planets was considerably less dense than the atmosphere immediately surrounding each solar body, there was nevertheless a strong content of gases — largely helium — wafted through the system by the sun.

Proof of the existence of a strong air current was suggested by comets and other visible objects crossing the earth's horizon with what seems to be a gaseous tail flowing from them, not in the direction of their travels but away from the sun. This seemed to mean that the air currents flowing from the sun were more powerful than any friction created by the object's trajectory.

Last November, an Aerobee-Hi rocket was sent into the stratosphere by scientists of the Naval Research Laboratory to test the theory of sun-produced gases. Armed with a photocell very sensitive to helium illuminated by the sun's rays, the rocket reported only a very feeble detection of this gas.

The count was so low scientists at the laboratory have concluded the space between planets, like the universe far away from the influence of any solar system, is a vacuum purer than any which can be created in the laboratory.

Comets' tails, it seems, are influenced by the sun's light, not its wind. And, except for occasional light gusts of gases emanating from solar eruptions, the solar complex contains nothing. It seems strange that so many people are in such a rush to get there.

How To Spot a Married Girl

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—It is getting harder to tell the married girls from the single girls.

There was a time when it was easier. All you had to do was glance at a certain finger of her left hand. If she wore a gold band on it, there was no doubt about it. She was married.

But customs change. So do rings. Many of the married women in Americas 20 million-plus feminine work force don't wear their wedding rings on the job.

And many single girls wear rings which give them the air of matronhood but actually celebrate only the fact they were able to graduate from high school or are members of a winning team in the factory bowling league.

But there are other signs. It's a pretty safe bet a gal is married if—

Whenever she leaves home after dark, she is trailed, two paces behind, by a tired-looking man who looks as if his feet hurt him.

In reading a magazine she merely glances at an article titled, "Americas 12 richest bachelors, then turns to one about "Wats wrong with our schools."

When she's dining out, she tell the man with her, "I'll take this, and you'll take that. It's better for your stomach."

She always kicks off her shoes in a movie house.

She can't name the latest matinee idol, but she can take a vacuum cleaner apart and put it together again in 15 minutes.

You look in her refrigerator and see eight bottles of milk and six cans of beer.

At a party you ask her to dance, a look of incredulous surprise sweeps over her face.

At a cocktail shindig, she keeps yanking at the same male elbow while yelping, "Remember what you promised. You said we'd go home after you had two."

She yawns when the talk turns to politics, but brightens up immediately if someone mentions a new recipe.

She tells the same man every morning five days a week, "Let's go somewhere tonight. We haven't been out in ages."

When someone asks her what she does, she hangs her head, sighs, and says deprecatingly, "Me? Oh, I'm just a housewife."

But she wouldn't trade her job for any other career in the world.

Citizen Knowledge Of First Aid Urged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Individual citizens should know enough first aid to make a family self-sufficient in time of disaster when normal peacetime medical services aren't available, all U. S. Public Health officials said here Tuesday.

How to deliver a baby, stop a hemorrhage and splint a fracture are some of the things Dr. Arthur Price, Region Five medical director for the U. S. Public Health Service, said individuals should know. He was speaking to a meeting of Ohio Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons.

Bolstering Rods Used To Save Broken Teeth

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Dr. Gerard L. Courtade of New York told the Maryland Dental Association Tuesday that stainless steel bolstering rods are being cemented into what remains of seriously broken-down teeth.

He said the dentist then puts a form around the teeth, pours a filling around the pins, and the tooth is ready for a crown or porcelain jacket.

THE MOST DISGUSTED author in Chicago is the man who heard via the grapevine that his latest flopper (a novel that in seven months had sold a grand total of 977 copies) had been reported "out of stock" by the publisher. A long-distance call verified the news: the publisher had indeed sold the entire remaining stock of the book — over 3000 copies — to a single customer! The buyer: a fruit grower in South America, who proposed using the books to bullet-proof his trucks against bandits! The publisher had sold him the books for 6 cents a copy net—and admitted he had done better than he had expected!

Queen Victoria was riding in the royal coach through the streets of London when a loyal subject burst through the cordon of police and hollered, "Keep up the good work, Vic, of girl!" The miscreant was hustled off, and the Queen was heard to grumble, "That should never have been allowed to happen—but it was gratifying, quite gratifying!"

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

The man was already dead seconds after the shot sounded!

With his head slumped onto his chest and his eyes closed, he no longer breathed. The doctor could find no heartbeat.

The murdered man was gently placed on the plush carpet for emergency treatment. Behind the left ear the doctor found a blood clot sealing the hole made by the bullet as it pierced the man's skull.

The doctor worked the clot loose to uncork the wound and prevent fatal pressure from building up around the brain. Next, the victim's tongue was pulled forward and his head tipped wide open.

The doctor hoped that artificial respiration and heart massage through the chest wall would bring the victim back from the dead.

Last year Johns Hopkins University doctors reported how they had massaged silent hearts back to life without cutting open the chest. Normal heartbeats can be restored in 3 out of 4 cases without lifting a single scalpel—and still leave time to operate and save the fourth!

The murdered man's heart slowly flickered back to life. He began to gasp for breath.

Leaving the heart to beat on its own, the doctor began Red Cross approved mouth-to-mouth breathing.

After placing his lips around the victim's nose and mouth, the doctor blew several deep breaths into the victim's lungs. As irregular gasping changed into steady breathing, the massaged heart thumped with new vigor.

Now the victim could be placed on a stretcher to be moved to the hospital. Here, blood transfusions and modern brain surgery might have saved him.

But he was carried only to a nearby house, where he passed away, without surgery or transfusions, while 30 medical experts watched helplessly.

Trained Brainpower Needed
By George Sokolsky

Recently General David Sarnoff discussed the problem of communicating scientific knowledge. Some comments were made on this subject in these writings and have received an interesting comment from a young scientist, part of which I give you:

"... I was very interested in your article on Dave Sarnoff's suggestion for an idea clearing house. I thought of this idea several years ago but dismissed it as being too expensive. Nevertheless, the entire scientific community needs such a system imperatively. If competent, highly trained brainpower is the nation's most valuable, and rarest resource, it is surely a waste to have it spend its time thumbing through indexes in libraries.

With the ever increasing flood of literature, a scientist can spend more time doing a paper research than the lab research he's paid for. If, while looking through his microscope, he sees a green spot in a cell, he ought to be able to dial "green spot" into a computer and be supplied within a minute with a bibliography covering everything that has ever been written on the subject of green spots. Then he will have time to do his work.

"The problem, however, doesn't end here. At present, the only way a new fact or theory can be given circulation is through the professional journals. At one time when little work was being done in the sciences, the journals were adequate for the task. Today, however, with tens of thousands of laboratories cranking out endless rivers of data, the trade papers can't possibly do their job. Some of the better ones are publishing material submitted as far back as three years with the backlog growing each month.

Even more appalling, important contributions are being published in little known periodicals which no one reads simply because the line is too long at the bigger journals. These important works often pass completely without notice only to be rediscovered much later by duplicated effort which could have been avoided by such an institution as Sarnoff's clearing house.

"The worst problem, though, is the politics of getting published. Many scientists rush into print to save their university positions. Others wear publications like a general wears his ribbons, and crowd the journal at the expense of better work by newcomers. On the other hand, many young men will fight to get published just to get a better initial job, even if their thesis aren't of sufficient scope to interest an entire profession. These and other abuses pervert many periodicals from their proper purposes thus making them even less efficient means of transmitting scientific advancements."

Young men come straight to the point because they have nothing to lose but their youth. Excellent thinking is done by young scholars, even in the social sciences. This material is likely to be in the scholarly journals which have very small circulations and are often passed over unnoticed for years, until some popularizer brings them to the fore in a newspaper or magazine article.

One of the misfortunes of the professional writer is that he is often too verbose to be interesting, too bogged down in the jargon of his discipline, as he calls his profession, to be readable. He writes for a handful of colleagues who will praise him and for a faculty which will vote him a full professorship. But his impact upon his community and his time is nil.

I do not read many scientific journals because some of those subjects are closed to me, but I do read many learned journals in fields with which I am familiar and take ideas from them and often quote from them, but I must admit that much of it is hard to pin down. The academician is fearful lest he be suspected of being a layman; therefore he writes in a style which will make him sound like a translation from

Exceptional Child Council Expresses Thanks to Public

The Pickaway County Council for Exceptional (retarded) Children today expressed thanks to the public for the generous help received in getting the organization started here.

Exceptional children classes are now in successful progress at St. Joseph's School, thanks to $4,100.70 which has been collected throughout the city and county. Members of the council said they are grateful to the many families, clubs, organizations and businesses whose contributions made the school possible.

Council members said they are aware the public is asked many times to be generous in donations to various groups, all of which are important. They said the Exceptional children project is long range and the goal has not been reached. They said they will continue to contact those who are willing to give.

The council now is in the planning stages for the next school year. A future project will be an auction, with all proceeds slated for the Exceptional Children program. The group also will handle the concession booth at Sunday's Circleville Riding Club horseshow at the Fairgrounds.

THE auction is planned for September. The council already has sounded a request for discarded furniture, clothing and other articles.

Discarded articles will be picked up by members of the council at times designated by the owners. Members who may be contacted are Rev. Floyd Adams, GR 4-4148; Barbara Tomlinson, GR 4-6496; Marjorie Porter, GR 4-3697; Sue Spires, GR 4-2585, Keith Wagner, GR 4-6144 and at Ashville Virgil Walden, YU 3-4632.

The council pointed out that the average mind fits in, the genius mind creates and that the retarded mind is waiting for the spot created for him.

John Wayne Is Pleased With Showing of 'Alamo'

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Shop talk with John Wayne—

The outsized actor was relaxing on the "Hawaii" set and talking, as is his wont, about "The Alamo." It will earn a profit despite the scoffers, he said.

"The latest figure is a world gross of 17 million and it may go higher," he reckoned. "It's doing fantastic business in Japan, also in Scandinavia and England. Over here, it's doing fine—biggest single gross in Los Angeles history."

"When I left for Africa last fall, things looked pretty grim. We were blasted out of the water by some critics who I know did it because they didn't like me. The initial reserved-seat runs weren't good because we didn't have time to put on a campaign in each city.

"The way it looks now, we'll all make a little profit. Not much, but some. I'm happy not only because I had my own dough in the picture for the first time. I talked my friends into investing, too. I was sweatin' it out for those Texans who backed me."

Would he wear the three hats of producer-director-star again?

"You bet! I had a ball."

But he'll follow others' directions this year. He does "The Comancheros" for Fox, then returns to Paramount for a film with John Ford—"I dunno much about it, but when Ford wants me for a picture, I'm there."

All these pictures call for the kind of big man of action Wayne epitomizes.

"There aren't many of us left," he said, "and not many coming up. I think Jim Garner has the potential and this guy who went into television—Brian Keith."

"But the young actors nowadays don't have the studios behind them, to bring them along and put them in picture after picture. And too many of them change characters just like they were in radio—by changing their voice only."

"Some critics claimed that guys like Gable and Cooper and Stewart and me were always playing ourselves. Baloney!"

Senior SOS Stages Annual Mother-Daughter Banquet

The Senior Service-Over-Self Club of Circleville High School held its annual Mother-Daughter Banquet in the social rooms of the high school. Katherine Measamer presided at the punch bowl before the dinner.

Theme for the evening was "Tip-Toe through the Tulips". Each mother was presented with a vase with tulips in them.

Guests were the Junior SOS executive board and their adviser, Miss Patricia Brock, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Henry, Mrs. G. A. Hartman, Richard Snouffer, Mrs. Charles Kirkpatrick, Miss Carolyn Valley, Mrs. William Rickey and Miss Elma Rains. Mrs. Snouffer and Mr. Hartman were unable to attend.

After dinner each member introduced her mother. Mrs. Measamer gave a welcome response to the members and guests. Jackie Gibbs, the outgoing vice-president summarized the activities of the year. During the year the club has worked about 250 hours for outside service, such as the Heart and Cancer drives and also have Mrs. Kirkpatrick $100 for use on boarder line cases.

Miss Measamer then introduced Mrs. Boggs, Senior SOS adviser, and she presented awards to Jackie Gibbs, Mary Ann Saunders, Ann Glitt and Paula Francis.

Gifts also were presented to Katherine Measamer, Mrs. Boggs, and Mrs. Kirkpatrick. A certificate was presented to Mr. Henry making him a life time member of the SOS Club. Pat Schroeder also presented a pair of green socks, symbol of the Sr. SOS, to Mr. Henry.

New officers were installed in the candlelight ceremony. New officers for the coming year are Susan Cherrington, president; Kathy Schmidt, vice president; Dora Greene, treasurer; Mona Davis, recording secretary; Karen O'Donnell, corresponding secretary; Nancy Harden, program chairman; Diane Dick, publicity chairman; and Jeanne Bartholomew, service chairman.

Entertainment was presented by all senior members, directed by Pat Schroeder and Melissa Goodroe. The juniors also presented a song to the seniors.

Presbyterian Church Holds Mother-Daughter Banquet

The Westminster Bible Class of the Presbyterian Church held its Mother-Daughter banquet in the dining room of the church with approximately 50 members and guests present.

After the prayer, given by Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, members and guests were invited to the buffet dinner which was a covered dish provided for by members of the class.

All were seated at tables, each place being marked with a small favor. Tables were decorated with arrangements of spring flowers. Following the dinner a welcome was given to all by Mrs. G. Guy Campbell and each member was asked to introduce her guest.

Miss Nancy Yates presented two musical selections on the piano, "Wind in the Pines" and "Majesty of the Deep". Mrs. Guy Campbell read a portrait of "What is a Girl" written by Alan Beck.

Mrs. E. E. Porter responded by giving a portrait of "The Mother" also by Alan Beck. Mrs. William Defenbaugh was presented with the speaker, Glenn Eckley. She was presented with a gift for her birthday.

Mrs. Defenbaugh then introduced Mr. Eckley, an exchange student from Brecon, Wales, who is making his home with the Defenbaughs while here.

Mr. Eckley stated that Brecon was a small city in Wales. Wales is noted for its beauty with large mountains, much forestry and many streams. The speaker talked of Brecon Mountain and the well known Snowdon Mountain, where several deaths have been recorded.

He also described many historical buildings found throughout Wales. The cathedral building, the home of missionaries, was one of the noted ones.

Cardiff, the capital of Wales, with a population of 70,000 had many fine shops. Sports there are similar to those here, Eckley said. The country exports coal and steel and also does farming. He said main crops are oats, wheat and barley.

Mr. Eckley stated that he belonged to YF club the same as our FFA club here.

Hostess for the evening were the members of the Westminster Bible Class.

Clearcreek Auxiliary To Meet Tonight

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

She Slaves, He Saves!

DEAR ABBY: If they ever held a contest to find the stingiest man in the world, I would enter my husband. He isn't just "thrifty"—he is downright cheap! I worked before my marriage 8 years ago, and have been working ever since. I took only three months off when I had my baby. And my husband (the sport) spent a dollar for a bottle of wine for the circumcision ceremony, and I had to give him the dollar back.

He makes good money, but he saves it all. Yet he expects me to spend mine for family living expenses. He has over $12,000 in the bank, and I have to beg him to keep his insurance premiums paid up. I feel like a workhorse. How can I get this miser of mine to spend some money?

MISER'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Your incomes should be combined in a common fund. All living expenses should be drawn from that fund. As long as you let him dip into your well, he will continue to spend his own money like water—a drop at a time.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is planning her wedding and we are having a terrible time with her. She made up her mind that she wants only blue-eyed blondes for her bridesmaids. She has 3 cousins with whom she was always very close, but only one of them is a blue-eyed blonde so she wants only that one for a bridesmaid. (The other two she plans just to invite to the wedding.) She has asked 3 girl friends whom she hardly knows to be the other bridesmaids. (All are blue-eyed blondes.) Our daughter is a brown-eyed brunette and thinks the contrast will be striking. Isn't this a silly way to select bridesmaid? How can we reach her? She is 21 and very strong-minded.

UPSET MOTHER
DEAR UPSET: Bridesmaids are usually selected for reasons somewhat deeper than the roots of the hair. Your daughter sounds shallow and petulant, and if you haven't been able to "reach her" in 21 years, it can't be done in a letter.
DEAR ABBY: If you want to

Smiths Host Church Group

The regular monthly meeting of the God's Willing Hands Class of the Church of the Brethren met at the home of Carolyn and Kay Smith.

Gary Harrison presided over the meeting. It opened with prayer by the teacher, Phyllis Cupp. A secretary report by Jim Anderson and treasurer report by David Greene followed. Business discussion included — more attendance for choir practice. Each member is to bring their mother to church Sunday in honor of Mothers Day.

Devotions were led by Lois Anderson. The topic was "Generation with Generation". The topic was discussed thoroughly with many points of interest about parents and teenagers, that we have decided to study and invite the parents to the meeting in a few months to have panel discussions with parents and also a panel of teenagers.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Christina Kegg on June 13.

Hope Is Given For Childless Women Past 50

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Hope for the yearning childless, and a new tool for the blind figure in medical news, along with a psychoanalysis of Adolf Hitler.

Can a childless couple still have hope after the woman passes her 50th birthday?

Medical statistics covering 39 million live births in the 1949-1958 decade show the birth of a first child to a woman over 50 occurs slightly more often than the birth of quadruplets to women of all childbearing ages.

Women 40-44 in New York City are three times as likely to give birth to a live child as they are to suffer death in an accident. The live birth to a woman 45-49 years old is more frequent than the birth to triplets.

Electronic Cane:
Two researchers have developed an electronic cane for the blind.

The device, which is being field tested, can be carried like a small brief case. It shoots out pulses of infrared light. When the beam strikes an object up to 10 feet away, it is reflected back to a photoelectric cell in the cane and triggers a buzzer.

The user then can press a button which cuts the range of the beam to five feet. This gives a rough estimate of the distance of the object.

The instrument was designed by J. Malvern Benjamin Jr., an engineer for Biophysical Electronics, Inc., New Hope Pa., and T. A. Benham, a physicist at Haverford College.

Hitler Analyzed:
A New York psychiatrist who made a detailed study of the behavior of Adolf Hitler has coined a new name for his mental classification—psychotic character.

Dr. Norbert Bromberg of the Albert Einstein College of Medicine said: "Hitler manifested such accurate perception and skillful manipulation of political and group psychological realities that he achieved great successes, earning him the designation, political genius."

"On the other hand, he revealed psychotic features such as irrational hates and paranoid ideas. It would therefore seem that he belonged to a group of borderline cases that includes individuals who are neither totally and irreversibly psychotic, nor always and in all psychic functioning relatively normal."

He said cases of this kind can be classified as psychotic character.

AT&T Eager To Loft Private Satellite

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. said today it is ready and eager to spend as much as $15 million of its own money to launch an experimental communications satellite leading to a commercial worldwide system.

James E. Dingman, AT&T vice president and chief engineer, disclosed also that the company last Dec. 14 asked the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to assign it a rocket to launch the experimental satellite.

Dingman said the company is anxiously awaiting the NASA decision. He said there are indications it may come by June 1. He said the company would be ready to shoot its own satellite into orbit by the first of next year.

Dingman outlined the company's plans before the House Science and Astronautics Committee.

Ohio Civil War Muster Day To Be Recalled in Gallipolis

Editors Note: Opening event of the Civil War centennial commemoration in Ohio will be "Muster Day" in Gallipolis, May 28. The program is sponsored by the Ohio Centennial Commission. The following story by the staff executive of the commission explains why Gallipolis was chosen for the event.

By ROBERT S. HARPER

Ohio Civil War Centennial Commission
GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP)—Gallipolis, a town of some 3,000 inhabitants a century ago, was on the backdoor step of the Confederacy at the outset of the Civil War. Consequently, it played a wartime role that had no counterpart in Ohio.

Situated on the Ohio near the mouth of the Kanawha River, and exposed to invasion from Confederate Virginia, it quickly assumed a position of military importance out of all proportion to its size. It had long served as a depot of supplies for the people of the Kanawha Valley. With the coming of war, the traditional peacetime role of the town was abruptly turned to military purposes.

When Ohio, seizing upon the anti-secession sentiment that prevailed in Western Virginia, replied with troops to calls from the opposite side of the river for protection from Confederate aggression, Gallipolis became a base of operations for the first military campaign of the war.

Troops were funneled through Gallipolis, great warehouses were built near the river to supply fighting men, and wartime traffic made a busy scene at the wharf. Camp Carrington came into existence and a sprawling Army hospital, with accommodations for 4,000 wounded and sick soldiers, was built.

Gallipolis was quick to feel the surge of war excitement and know the dread of threatened invasion. Soon after Fort Sumter fell, newly recruited Confederate troops pushed down the Kanawha to Buffalo, only twenty miles from Gallipolis.

The town people dug rifle pits on the surrounding hills and men, both old and young, took turns lying in them. All roads leading into the town were guarded.

A local militia company, the Gallia Guards, was formed. Henry Graham was captain; James Harper, first lieutenant, and H. N. Ford, second lieutenant. Graham soon joined the army and Harper became captain. Another company, the Trumbull Guards, was organized later for river duty and served through the war.

During the latter part of April almost a thousand men were recruited in southeastern Ohio for the 18th Ohio Volunteer Infantry in reply to President Lincoln's first call for troops. Company F was enrolled at Gallipolis.

Others were: Companies A, C and E, enrolled at Ironton; Company B, Marietta; Company D, McArthur; Company I, Jackson, and Company K at Beverly. The regiment assembled for organization at Camp Union, Parkersburg, and from there joined in the campaign for western Virginia.

But it must be admitted that union sentiment did not wholly prevail in the Gallipolis area on either side of the river. Many persons had close ties with the south, either through family relationship or friendship. Consequently, a number of young men "went south," joining the Confederate forces in preference to the national.

Even while the Gallia Guards were forming, a Confederate officer was enrolling recruits a few miles below Gallipolis. His volunteers included several young men who had attended the Gallipolis public school.

The officer was Col. (later general) Albert Gallatin Jenkins, a former Virginia Congressman well known and personally popular in Gallia County. This popularity suffered later in the war when Jenkins staged several spectacular raids along the river and rode off with the best horses in the communities visited.

After the 18th Ohio was organized, recruiting began for the 4th Virginia Volunteer Infantry, a three-year regiment, called the "Loyal Virginians" but enrolled largely in Ohio. About 300 Gallia County men enlisted in the 4th Virginia and a corresponding number joined other regiments. Of the ten companies in the 4th Virginia, all but three were made up of Ohio recruits. It was organized at Point Pleasant on August 22, 1861.

Meanwhile, in response to Gov. William Dennison's statement that he would "defend Ohio beyond rather than on its own border," Ohio militia regiments, not yet mustered into federal service and led by the state appointed commander of its forces, Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan, began the successful campaign in western Virginia. McClellan issued orders on May 26 to cross the Ohio. Several Ohio three-month regiments invaded Virginia the next day, crossing at Parkersburg and at Benwood.

On that same May 27, at five o'clock in the evening, the 21st Ohio Volunteer Infantry arrived at Gallipolis from Camp Taylor, Cleveland, under the command of Col. Jesse S. Norton of Perryburg. Two companies of the 21st, A and F, were awaiting the main body of the regiment, having reached Gallipolis on May 23. The whole town turned out to welcome the regiment. The troops stacked arms in the public square and the welcoming citizens fed them at the wharf boat.

Two days later, the regiment pitched camp in a wheat field on the Barlow farm at the upper end of town. This was called Camp Carrington, named for Brig. Gen. Henry B. Carrington.

When on June 3 word came that the first clash of arms had taken place at dawn that day, a Confederate force at Philippi had been put to route by the advancing Union columns. There were casualties, but losses were light on both sides. This affair has gone down in history as the first "land battle" of the war.

On July 3, Col. Norton of the 21st Ohio left Gallipolis by boat with a small force for Ravenswood, where the 17th Ohio Volunteer Infantry was expecting to be attacked by Gen. (former Virginia governor) Henry A. Wise. Disembarking at midnight, Norton marched about a dozen miles to Ripley, expecting to surprise Wise, but he and his force had departed. Norton returned to Gallipolis.

On reconnaissance up the Kanawha River a few days later, Norton seized some 40 Confederate sympathizers as hostages to guarantee the safe return of a similar number of Unionists held by Jenkins.

The Gallia Guards escorted the hostages to Camp Chase at Columbus. Jenkins released his prisoners, whereupon those held at Camp Chase were set free. While tension was high at the time, the episode became a laughing matter after the war with the hostages of both sides mirthfully exchanging stories of their experiences.

On still another raid, Norton seized a steamboat load of cattle, horses and forage bound for Jenkins' forces on the Kanawha and brought it to Gallipolis.

Brig. Gen. Jacob D. Cox formed a brigade at Point Pleasant on July 11 for an advance up the Kanawha Valley. His force consisted of the 21st, the 11th and the 12th Ohio Volunteer Infantry, the 1st and 2nd Kentucky Infantry regiments, Battery A of the 1st Ohio Light Artillery, Pfau's Independent Cincinnati Troop of Horse, and a cavalry company organized at Gallipolis by Capt. George.

On July 17, Cox was defeated at Scary Creek, losing nine killed, 17 wounded, and a number captured. Col. Norton, who had become a great favorite at Gallipolis, was wounded and captured. The colonels of the 11th Ohio and the 2nd Kentucky also were captured.

The 21st Ohio returned to Gallipolis where its time of service expired and it was sent home for mustering out. It was reorganized as a federal regiment and fought throughout the war.

Great excitement prevailed at Gallipolis on March 29, 1863, when Gen. Jenkins tried to capture a federal Army gunboat on the Kanawha. The boat fled to Point Pleasant with Jenkins in pursuit. A company of federal troops in Point Pleasant barricaded themselves in the courthouse at the enemy's approach.

The Confederates hit the town the next day, but ignored the federals at the courthouse. They tried to seize the wharf boat, loaded with stored supplies for the Union Army. Capt. Frederick Ford ran his steamboat in under heavy fire, put a line on the wharf boat and towed it to Gallipolis.

There the alarm was spread and the Trumbull and Gallia Guards, under command of Captain Harper, together with a number of citizens of Gallipolis, marched on Point Pleasant. Artillery fire was opened from a floating battery and the Confederates fled into the hills, leaving 24 prisoners in Union hands.

At the approach of Gen. John H. Morgan and his raiders in July 1863, Gallia County called every man able to bear arms. Morgan swept through Racoon Township, then across Huntington, Morgan and Cheshire townships and on to the Ohio River where an attempt was made to cross. Turned back by federal gunboats, the raiders were overtaken by pursuing union forces and more than 200 were captured in Addison Township. The main body of Morgan's troops captured a company of Portsmouth militia at Ewington on the morning of the 24th. The men were relieved of their ammunition and told to go home.

One of the final exciting episodes of the war at Gallipolis was the capture by rebel raiders of a steamboat carrying Brig. Gen. Eliakim Parker Scammon to Union headquarters at Charleston on Feb. 3, 1864. The steamboat was seized at Red House shoals in the Kanawha while it was awaiting daylight to proceed. The general and his staff, 13 unarmed soldiers on furlough, and the crew of the boat were made prisoners. All except Scammon and his staff were released and the steam-

Magnetism Is Linked to Cancer Search

WASHINGTON (AP)—The discovery that cancerous liver tissue in rats is less magnetic than normal tissue was announced by the Interior Department today.

Geological Survey officials said the find provides medical men with another possible means of identifying malignant tissue and suggests a new avenue of approach toward arresting the spread of the disease.

The discovery was made by scientists at the Geological Survey, working with scientists of the National Cancer Institute.

This is not the first time that magnetic fields have been used in the study of cancer, the survey said.

It related that a few years ago Dr. J. M. Barnothy at the University of Budapest reported that in albino mice inoculated with certain types of cancer, there was loss of tumor in five cases and complete recovery in four cases out of six for animals placed in a moderately high magnetic field. In contrast, control animals which were similarly inoculated were kept out of the magnetic field, and all died.

In that study analyses indicated a high magnetic field hinders the process of growth through body cell division, the survey explained.

Kidnap Victim's Father Dies at 60

ORRVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The father of Melvin Horst, victim in a nationally publicized kidnaping case here in 1928, died in Eustis, Fla. Tuesday.

Raymond Horst, 60, who moved to Florida where he was in the heating and roofing business, will be buried in Crown Hi Cemetery here after funeral services Friday afternoon. He is survived by a daughter and son.

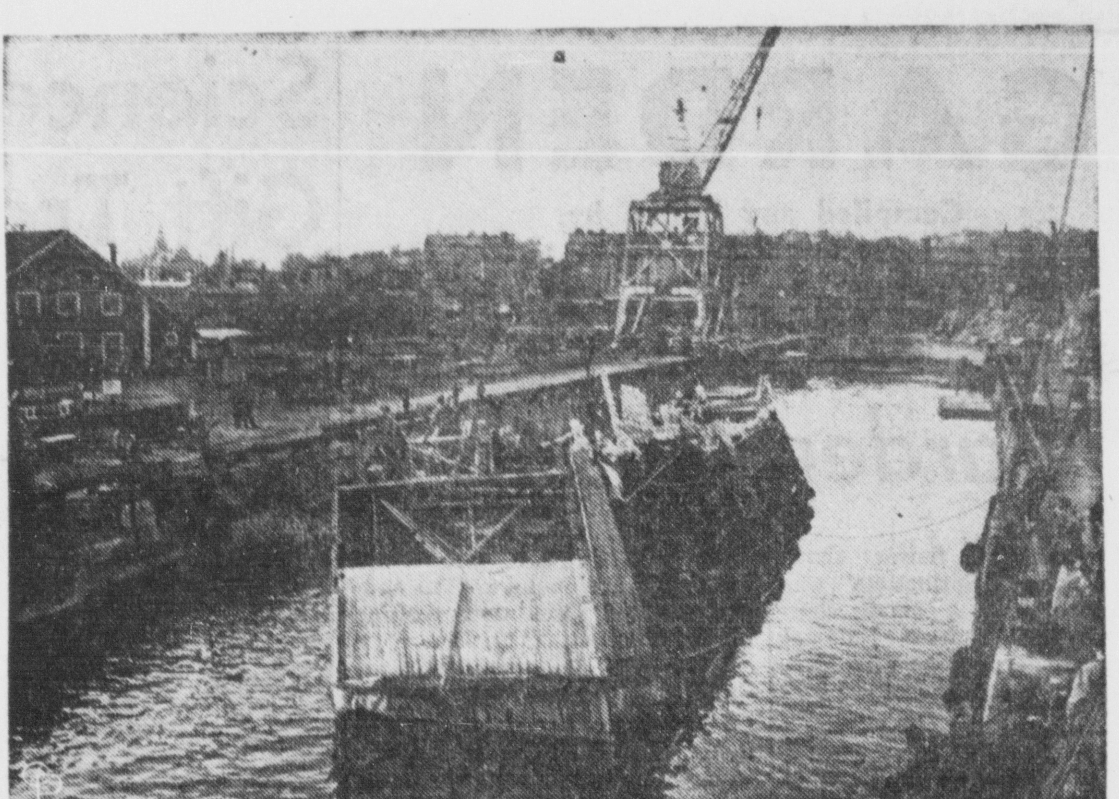

Melvin Horst was 5 when he disappeared from a quiet street in this village on Dec. 27, 1928. He last was seen near his home playing with a new red wagon he had received for Christmas.

Continuing Idle Pay Claims Drop in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Continuing claims for unemployment compensation — those unemployed one week or more—dropped from 185,782 to 173,640 in the week ended April 29 to 16,842.

The Bureau of Unemployment Compensation also reported 57,130 persons receiving the extended benefits under the temporary federal program, in the week ended May 6. In the same week there were 4,723 new claims for extended benefits under the federal program.

Occupation of western Virginia by Ohio troops made it possible for the people of that area, mostly opposed to secession, to break away from the Richmond government. The Wheeling Convention on June 20, 1861, formed a provisional government and statehood was granted exactly two years later.

SANK 333 YEARS AGO—The Wasa, flagship of Swedish King Gustavus Adolphus' fleet, is floating again in Stockholm harbor after being on the bottom 333 years. The ancient warship capsized and sank with 500 persons aboard on its maiden voyage in 1628. It will be cleaned up and made into a floating (they hope) museum.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fish and fowl will take over the top spots among weekend specials at many supermarkets and neighborhood groceries this week.

The abundance of these spring-time favorites exceeds the usual bargain standbys—beef, pork and lamb.

The fish specials include shrimp, scallops, smelts, halibut and frozen varieties.

The featured fowl are Cornish game hens, turkeys, frying chickens and ducks.

Rib roast predominates among the beef specials.

A great variety of vegetables is arriving on the markets as the weather warms up in the more temperate growing areas.

Among these newcomers are peaches, green cabbage, strawberries and yellow squash from South Carolina, Florida kohlrabi, North Carolina iceberg lettuce, Texas tomatoes, West Indies and Cuban mangoes.

Best buys among vegetables are beans, beets, carrots, cabbage, corn, cucumbers, nearby broccolirabe, kale, dandelion, spinach, green onions, leeks, Western lettuce, onions, mushrooms, potatoes and rhubarb.

Good buys include asparagus, broccoli, fava beans, celery, Atlantic collards, mustard, turnip tops, eggplant, escarole, endive, parsley and peppers.

Best fruit buys are bananas, grapefruit and oranges.

Watermelons, strawberries, honeydew melons and lemons are good buys.

Ike To Get Award From West Point

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will visit West Point on May 15 to accept the Sylvanus Thayer award from the academy's Association of Graduates.

Eisenhower will be the first graduate of the academy to receive the award, consisting of a gold medal and scroll.

The award is presented annually at the Founder's Day dinner to a citizen whose service and accomplishments in the national interest exemplify outstanding devotion to ideals expressed by the West Point motto "Duty, Honor, Country."

Garden Gossip

The Frankfort flower show, "Sing a Song of Springtime" was living proof that a small show need not deviate from National Council standards. This very lovely event drew a crowd of 200 persons.

Mrs. Charles Mootz, formerly of E. Mound St., was one of the exhibitors. She said when she left for the show her two young daughters were making "flower arrangements."

Mrs. Mootz asked about Mrs. Ella Hornbeck. "Tell her," said Mrs. Mootz, "that my iris are lovely. She gave me many of my finest starts."

Mrs. Hornbeck who lives on Pineknob St., has started many a new gardener out with plants from the famous Hornbeck garden.

Rock gardens are becoming fashionable again. They are so much in vogue that the Brooklyn Botanic Garden has a new rock garden booklet.

Mrs. Hornbeck's garden is one of the few remaining rock gardens left over from the rock garden craze of 30 years ago.

And if you think you aren't interested in rock garden plants that is a sign you've never visited Mrs. Hornbeck's garden in April and May. Right now it is indeed a place to visit.

Mrs. Trimble Parker has not entered a flower show competitively since the death of her husband three years ago. She says she has had her fun at flower shows and she intimated that entering competitively was a strain as well as fun.

She entered the invitational class at the Frankfort show however. The judges went quietly mad about one of her arrangements. She used a branch of weeping birch and white tulips in a low aqua crystal container. She had laced the container on another low bowl of swirled crystal. The effect was that of shimmering water.

This is what the judges had to say. "This shows the culmination of many years of technique and many years of expressing emotion through flower arranging."

Moreover the judges said it would deserve the tri-color in a national level flower show.

All along the Walnut Creek Pike bluebells were to be seen. We took the route when we attended the Columbus Council Garden Club of Ohio annual meeting.

Mrs. Turney Pontius has a beautiful planting of bluebells near her lily pool.

Bluebells are shade loving and gardeners with a shade problem will do well to remember this.

Doyle Cupp, S. Pickaway St., suffered no rose loss this winter, but he's all for a sawdust winter cover. He covered some of his roses with sawdust and others with barnyard manure. The sawdust covered roses are growing much the best.

Christian Schwarz, Watt St., has not lost a single rose. He has told Doyle Cupp that he is through with winter protection for roses. According to Cupp, Schwarz never mounds his roses.

Schwarz lives in a somewhat protected section of the city. We doubt if he ever gets the blast of west winds that rural roses might feel.

There is a primrose path along the grape arbor at the Presbyterian manse. Primroses are such a modest little flower it is curious that they can make a pathway so enchanting.

And speaking of enchanting paths, the J. O. Eaglesons have a path bordered with narcissi.

Mrs. Eagleson turned up at the May Day luncheon at Ilonka's with a half hat fashioned of narcissus blossoms.

Mrs. Charles Thompson turned up at the same place with a hat fashioned of a wicker compote trimmed with orange tulips and matching butterflies. It won special mention.

Mrs. Schubert Measamer, Knollwood Village, wore a hat made of red cabbage leaves. Mrs. Measamer can make real hats. This one looked for all the world as though she had used a fabric. It was also a winner.

The creeping phlox is at its best along N. Court St., now. The Don Masons' backyard is quite eye-catching because of it.

When I was talking to Mrs. Wallie Higgins about the primrose path at her father's house, she said she had been having great fun watching plants in their own yard as they put in their appearance after the winter departure.

Carol says the only thing she ever grew before was mint. She had a little spot of mint in her landlady's yard one time and it spread so much the landlady was obliged to ask her to remove it before it took the whole garden.

Johnny Himrod, landscape man, says not to put your faith in azaleas around these parts. He has a little planting of them to which he has given tender care. Only one has bloomed this year.

Mrs. Emmett Barnhart, Northridge Road, has planted azaleas and rhododendrons in front of her home. She has successfully grown wild azaleas for many years with no more than a yearly mulching of peat moss. She believes she will not have trouble with her new acid loving plants.

We are very interested in gardeners who do have luck with such plants around here. Do report your luck, good or bad, on such items.

Back to the Frankfort flower show. Mrs. Reginald Blue had an outstanding exhibit of named varieties of daffodils. Pretty sporting of her to keep her daffodils in the educational exhibit. They would have been difficult to beat in competition.

Mrs. Kari Mason has promised to give me a private showing of her European flower pictures. I wonder why lilacs grow so big in France? Several travelers, including Mrs. Mason, have spoken of their beauty and size.

Science Experiment Nets Gift Tree for 1st Graders

PLANTING TIME — Saltcreek first graders plant seed in broken egg shells. Joan Beavers puts the soil in the shells. Leona Smyers looks on. Donna Strous waters the newly planted seeds. Other participants are Ricky Stevens, Teresa Radabaugh, Jenine Boggs and Rocky Arledge.

By MRS. ELIZABETH JONES

The first grade is a mighty interesting place to spend your time these days.

Ask any first grader at Saltcreek School where Mrs. Durlin Bochart is the teacher.

This year the youngsters read about planting seeds in egg shells and how the seed burst open and released a sprout which in turn grew into a plant.

So Mrs. Bochart and her first graders decided to try this experiment in science for themselves. The youngsters brought empty egg shells. Larkie Huffman, school custodian, procured rich barnyard soil for the project.

THE day came when the seeds were planted. Each child had a hand in the planting. Both corn and beans were used and the egg shells numbered.

The seeds were carefully watered every day. On the third day Mrs. Bochart allowed the children to look at the seed in Egg Shell Number 1. Nothing had happened. Two days later, however, when the seed in Egg Shell Number 2 was investigated the first graders found that the seed had burst open and a small sprout was emerging.

The youngsters watched the sprouts as they pushed through the soil. They were intensely interested. When they returned on Monday morning they discovered one plant had grown six inches during the weekend. They were highly amused at the gangly overgrown sprout.

In the meantime George McDowell, superintendent of Pickaway County Schools, visited the first grade and watched the children's excited interest.

He asked the boys and girls how they would like to plant a tree on Arbor Day so that they could watch it grow for the eight long years they'd be spending at Saltcreek School.

THE BOYS and girls said they'd like to plant a tree very much. And that's how it happened that this year on Arbor Day the first graders and their teacher, Mrs. Bochart, held a solemn little ceremony on the school grounds and planted a golden rain tree that the county school superintendent had presented to them.

The tree was planted near the highway close to the monkey bars. Perhaps when the first graders are big boys and girls and about to graduate from Saltcreek, the golden rain tree will be providing shade for them.

ARBOR DAY AT SALT CREEK — April 28 was a bleak, cold day but that fact did not deter Saltcreek first graders from planting their Golden Rain tree, gift of Pickaway County School Superintendent George McDowell. The school official presented the tree to the first graders because he saw the keen interest they took in a seed planting project.

NEVER THE TWAIN SHALL MEET—On one side of the bridge is Kingston, Pa., and on the other, Wilkes-Barre, and the traffic line painting crews each started from their own side.

Garden Council Symphony Club Sponsors Show

Flower Exhibit To Be Held at Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts

"Symphony in Flowers" is the theme of the flowers show sponsored jointly by the Columbus Council of Garden Clubs (Garden Club of Ohio) and the Central Ohio Symphony Club.

This will be a large flower show in which all member clubs of the council will participate. It will be held at the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts on May 27 and 28.

Visitors may view the show from 3 to 9 p. m. May 27 and from noon to 4 p. m. on May 28.

All classes in the artistic division will bear names of musical terminology. Titles include "Full Orchestra", "Style", "Modern", "Musical Form", "Tempo" and "Encore". Each of these divisions will have three or more classes.

THERE will be two classes in the "Table Settings" division, "Prelude" for a morning coffee and "Finale" for a semi-formal buffet.

The Junior division is entitled "Symphonette". There will be a class for arrangers under 14 and a class for those of high school ages.

There are 17 classes in the horticultural division plus three of houseplants. Exhibits in the horticultural division include roses, iris, hellebore, lily, peony, poppy (Oriental), pansy and delphinium.

Awards will be ribbons, first, second and third and honorable mention. There will be a Best-of-show ribbon in the design classes and a Best-of-show ribbon in the table setting classes.

The Award of Merit will go to the winner of the best horticulture specimen and an Award of Merit will be given for the best exhibit in the houseplant divisions.

Exhibitors are asked to register their exhibits by May 24 with class consultants. Mrs. Samuel Black, Noe and Bixby Roads, Columbus and Mrs. Phillip Nies, 129 N. Columbia Ave., Columbus are co-chairmen of the event. Schedules are available from either chairman.

Senator Sees Castro As Liability to Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., suggests that Cuba's Fidel Castro may become an albatross around the neck of Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told the Senate Tuesday that the Soviet Union soon will discover the Cuban regime is "a running abscess in the Caribbean."

VEGETABLE GARDEN CHART — Keep this chart and consult it when you're planting your garden. It will help keep your harvest to the size you need. It's as frustrating to have an overabundance as not to have a sufficiency. But bear in mind, a good vegetable garden is well worth while.

Vegetable Garden Often May Be Individual Project

If there are those among local readers who think the vegetable garden may be a project of family togetherness banish the dream. A family vegetable garden is an economic "must" in some cases and a rewarding hobby in others.

But I've yet to see that garden where mom, pop and the kids all show enthusiasm. In the country the vegetable garden's mom's chore. In the city it's pop's hobby. In a few cases, generally when it's a 4-H deal, the youngsters take real interest.

So at best a vegetable garden is fun for an individual. Only in the land of "Never Happen" may it be regarded as a fun project for the family as a whole.

Be that as it may, of one person is enjoying the garden that is enough.

A GARDEN will help stretch the family income. It will reduce the high cost of weekly marketing and it will provide your table with vegetables at their freshest. Experts say that a 15-cent package of seed will frequently produce up to five dollars in garden-to-table vegetables. This will also mean canned or frozen vegetables for your winter table.

Vegetable gardening is easy. Just follow the directions on the seed packets. It's not growing the vegetables that is the difficult part. A good vegetable garden takes considerable planning. Or else the gardener will find himself with a feast and famine garden.

After all, the family can only enjoy green beans about three times a week. If you serve green beans every night for two weeks even fresh tender green beans become an old story. So plan to freeze or can the surplus. Don't feel obligated to eat the entire crop. Or don't feel frustrated if you can't succeed in giving away your surplus. Write it off as an experience and plant more conservatively next year.

If nobody else is interested in helping exterminate the weeds don't knock yourself out trying to make the kids cultivate the vegetable rows. Just plant a garden small enough to care for by yourself.

All-America Selections Available Here

Wise gardeners will include the current crop of All America flower winners in their garden this year as in other years.

The 1961 winners are Gloriosa Double Daisy, sweet alyssum, Rosie O'Day and Coral Satin petunia.

Chances are you purchased those interesting new annuals early this year when the winners were first announced. If you did not you will find them in many seed racks in local stores. All America selections never prove disappointing.

THE Gloriosa double daisy has golden flowers on three-foot bush plants. Rosy O'Day alyssum is a soft true pink, certain to be popular as a border plant.

Coral Satin petunia is a brilliant bedding petunia.

Herbs with Flavor, Aroma Do Not Need Fertile Soil

Want to know something interesting about herbs? Edwin F. Stefek, author of a sensible new garden book entitled "Gardening Made Easy" says, "Herbs are best if not grown in the most fertile soil in the garden. Where life is a little harder they seem to produce a little more flavor and aroma."

Refreshing to know that herbs as well as humans flourish on hardships!

Botanists refer to herbs as non-woody plants. The rest of us regard herbs as plants grown for their flavor and aroma.

Once regarded as quaint, they are now grown by the most up-to-date gardeners. They need not take a great deal of space for herbs are best used in minute quantities.

***
NOTHING is cuter than a little herb garden near the kitchen door where it is a source of convenience for the cook. And don't think that modern cooks are averse to herb flavoring. In fact some of the herbs might be described as "Herb Happy".

The principal herbs are: Sweet Basil, an annual, 18 to 24 inches high; the leaves dried or green are used in soups, salads and omelets.

Chives, a perennial growing in clumps; select leaves for chopping anytime during the season; six inches high, mild onion flavor.

Dill, an annual, 30 inches high, use seeds for pickles, vinegars, soups and sauces.

Mint; spreading perennial, look out for mint in your garden; it's given to roaming. Leaves, dried or fresh, are used in beverages and in a sauce for lamb.

Parsley, perennial to be treated like an annual, eight inches high used as a seasoning or garnish for meat, fish and potatoes.

***
ROSEMARY, half hardy perennial, leaves and tips used as flavoring in soups, meats and sauces about 24 inches high.

Sage, perennial, 24 inches high used green or dried in poultry stuffings, sausage and soups.

Summy savory, annual, 60 days, leaves and flowers used in soups, salads and dressings.

Sweet Marjoram, both annual and perennial species, 24 inches high flavoring meat pie, sausage, beans and salads.

Thyme, perennial, four inches high, leaves fresh or dried for soups, meat loaf, and poultry dressing.

Lavender, 30 inch perennial, has flower spikes of lavender - blue that are cherished for their pleasant aroma.

Convicted Ex-GE Aide Given New Position

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) — William S. Ginn, former General Electric Co. vice president who was sentenced to jail for price fixing, was reported today to have been appointed assistant to the president of the Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton Corp. of Philadelphia.

Ginn resigned from GE in March after serving nearly a month in jail.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara seems to be getting his concern for security confused with propaganda.

McNamara, as civilian head of the armed forces, is wrestling with the same dual responsibility which beset his predecessor in the Eisenhower administration:

How to keep the country as fully informed as possible without revealing vital military secrets to the Russians.

But a defense secretary also has a third responsibility: Not to kid the public.

Last April McNamara, behind closed doors, testified before the Senate Armed Services Committee. He spoke in great detail on defense problems for a prepared statement.

His security experts in the Pentagon made public some parts of it after culling out others which they thought should not be revealed.

Then when he appeared before the committee he made additional statements under questioning. Wednesday the committee released some of those statements.

They showed: McNamara expressed shock that his security expert had released so much of his original testimony.

"It seems to me," he said, "that we were releasing far more (information) than would have been appropriate, considering the damaging effect on our security from the release of the information that was proposed."

But, in tracking down his security experts' reasons for releasing part of his testimony which he thought should be kept secret, McNamara said he found that many of the items previously had been discussed in public.

"Why," McNamara asked the committee, "should we tell Russia that the Zeus (anti-missile) system may not be satisfactory?"

Then the defense secretary added: "What we ought to be saying is that we have the most perfect anti-ICBM system that the human mind will ever devise."

If McNamara did put out such words—a complete exaggeration if only because McNamara can't tell what the human mind will devise—the Russians might be misled but so would the American public.

If McNamara feels it's all right to feed such propaganda to the public on Zeus, then it seems fair to ask: Does he feel the same about other parts of American defenses which he may actually and privately consider inadequate?

There's no doubt he has an intense problem in trying to inform the public without revealing priceless information to the Russians, but other secretaries of defense before him contended with the same dilemma.

He got a lot of sympathy from the senators on the Armed Services Committee. Each defense secretary in turn has solutions that are a little different.

For example: At the time Thomas S. Gates Jr. was sworn in as secretary of defense on Dec. 2, 1959, there had been a standing policy for years that the defense secretary should be sole spokesman for the military establishment.

Under this policy the secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force seldom spoke out except when they were well away from Washington. Immediately on taking office Gates said this policy would be reversed.

He said he would encourage the secretaries to hold news conferences and answer questions. This writer has been told McNamara intends to follow Gates' system.

Meigs County Slayer To Be Given Freedom

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle today commuted the first-degree murder sentence of William Larkins of Meigs County to second-degree murder, making Larkins eligible for parole.

Larkins, 42, was convicted in the slaying of Mrs. Sarah Lawrence in 1935 when Larkins was only 16.

Larkins walked away from the London Prison Farm in 1949, and was recaptured the same day. This brief taste of liberty cost him five years by delaying his commutation consideration from 1956 to 1961.

Heroic Fight Of Norway's Jews Related

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP)—A heroic tale of Norwegian underground fighters who saved hundreds of Jews from the Nazis was told at the Eichmann trial today by the widow of a rabbi who failed to survive the Holocaust.

Henriette Samuel, whose husband had been chief rabbi for Norway's 1,700 Jews, described how the Gestapo launched its drive in 1942 to round up and deport the entire community.

Her husband was one of the first seized.

"I have confirmation that on Dec. 16, 1942, he was exterminated at Auschwitz," she said.

A note of restrained exultation crept into her calm, low voice when she told how the gentiles in the underground at great peril brooght 85 Jews—including herself and her three children—over the border into Sweden.

Mrs. Samuel's testimony was introduced by Israeli Deputy Atty. Gen. Gavriel Bach as part of the record against Adolf Eichmann, the SS officer charged with being the operating head of the Nazi bureau assigned to wipe out the Jewish race in Europe. Only in Scandinavia—Norway and especially Denmark—did Eichmann come up against something too big for even his midnight raiders.

"The Jews lived in Norway freely and without restriction and their economic situation was good," said Mrs. Samuel, herself a native of Berlin.

"From 1940 to 1942 the first two years of the occupation, they were under the illusion that in Norway, the country of Nansen, the anti-Jewish laws of the Nazis would not be promulgated."

But early in 1942, the Eichmann kommandos of department IV-B-4, charged with "the final solution to the Jewish problem," cracked down with the usual restrictive measures long since in force on the continent.

Kennedys Plan 3-Day Rest In Florida

WASHINGTON (AP)—President and Mrs. Kennedy head for Florida today for three days of relaxation.

The President and First Lady arranged to board a helicopter on the White House lawn in late morning for the short hop to nearby Andrews Air Force Base, Md. They take off from there by jet plane for Palm Beach.

The Kennedys plan to remain at the Florida resort city until late Sunday before flying back to Washington.

The White House Wednesday reported that the trip would be made, but announced no reason for it.

There was no question, however, that Kennedy sought a restful vacation to play some golf, swim and just loiter around.

Some who see the President frequently say he's like any man who has worked long hours under severe pressure—he can use the tonic of a few days off.

Kennedy has grappled in recent weeks with emergencies in Cuba and Southeast Asia as well as other anticipated problems on the international and domestic scene.

Even before today's departure, Kennedy scheduled a White House meeting with the Cabinet.

At Palm Beach, Kennedy will be kept informed of important developments at home and abroad and have access to split second communication with responsible officials. But, the White House news secretary Pierre Salinger, said there would be no news from the resort. All announcements will be issued as usual through the White House.

Remember the good old days, asks Grandpappy Jenkins, when all we had to worry about was whether or not flying saucers were real?

County Health Unit Work Outlined by Commissioner

Editor's Note: To provide the citizens of Pickaway County with a better understanding of the functions of their local government The Herald has requested the heads of the various county departments to prepare summary reports on the activities of their offices. Today's first of four articles, prepared by Dr. Frank Moore, county health commissioner, describes the duties performed by the Health Department.

1. Personnel:
Dr. Frank R. Moore directs the activities of the department in his capacity as Health Commissioner. Mrs. Helen Pickens, a registered nurse, serves as the department's inspecting and visiting nurse.

Miss Mildred Wolfe supervises office operations and Mrs. Lorne Miller is employed as a clerk. Russell T. Blaney is the part-time sanitarian.

Final authority on any department policy or actions rests with a five-man Board of Health. Members are appointed by an Advisory Board composed of all chairmen of township trustees' boards plus the mayors of all villages in the county.

Board of Health members serve five-year terms on a rotating basis, one member retiring and one new person appointed at the annual Advisory Board meeting.

UNDER Ohio law, one member of the Board of Health must be a physician. This is Dr. M. D. Gamble, New Holland, currently board vice president.

Other board members are: Glenn T. Grimes, New Holland, president; A. Ray Plum, Ashville; Willard D. England, Circleville; and Dale F. Smith, Williamsport.

The policy of the Advisory Board has been to appoint men representing various sections of the county to maintain a county-wide perspective in handling health problems.

2. Controlling Diseases:
All diagnosed cases of communicable disease are reported to the State Health Department. These are the catching diseases, such as scarlet fever, diphtheria, smallpox, typhoid fever, measles and others.

Most of these diseases are preventable, and public health work is particularly interested in the field of preventive medicine.

THE family physician treats the individual case, but it is the duty of the health commissioner to prevent the spread of such diseases.

Vaccination and immunization are the most effective methods of halting these illnesses.

Our immunization program has been very successful. Almost 100 per cent of Pickaway County's school children have been treated. There has not been a case of smallpox in the county for 20 years and typhoid is almost a thing of the past.

By using quarantine and isolation procedures on sporadic cases of communicable diseases, the department has prevented the spread of any disease to epidemic proportions for the past quarter-century.

Children with communicable skin diseases are not permitted to remain in school. A close watch is maintained in all schools to detect such cases early and put the children under proper treatment.

Next: Tuberculosis control and school hygiene.

Judge Rules Manchester To Be Legally Dry

MANCHESTER, Ohio (AP)—Manchester was as legally dry as the rest of Adams County today after Judge Darrell Hottle in Common Pleas Court reinstated three disputed votes, changing a local option election. The ruling Wednesday turned down sale of liquor in the community by two votes, 588-584. Permit holders said they would appeal.

In the election last November, the dries won by 11 votes, but later court action threw out a dozen votes, so that the dries lost by one vote, 584-583.

Television Industry Feels Agency's Sharp Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP)—The television industry and the Federal Communications Commission today squared away for a new sort of suspenseful TV quiz which might be titled, "What comes next?"

That was the big question as delegates scattered from the 39th annual convention of the National Association of Broadcasters, which produced a major government assault on television program content.

In two convention appearances, Newton N. Minow, 35, the new commission chairman, hammered away at the theme of better programming for the American public and shook the big stick of FCC's power to deny license renewals for broadcasting stations.

The FCC grants license renewals on a showing that a station has been operated "in the public interest."

The commission never has refused a renewal for a TV station on the basis of program content. However, using a relatively new power granted by Congress last year, it recently has put some radio outlets on "short term licenses," that is, for less than the usual three years, pending further observation of the stations' operations.

Speaking as FCC's head man and also as a "television viewer and the husband and father of other television viewers," Minow said a great many TV programs are "eminently worthwhile."

But he condemned what he described as "a procession of agme shows, violence, audience participation shows, formula comedies about totally unbelievable families, blood and thunder, mayhem, sadism, murder, western badmen, western good men, private eyes, gangsters, more violence, and cartoons."

"And, endlessly, commercials—many screaming, cajoling, and offending," he said. "And most of all, boredom."

In the crossfire, one delegate using a floor microphone in the packed convention hall asked if any member of FCC had any recent contact with the First Amendment—guaranteeing freedom of speech.

Commissioner Robert T. Bartley retorted: "Yes, but I don't find any reference to ads in the First Amendment."

Various commission members said they feel the answer to "abuses" in broadcasting could be found in obedience to the NAB codes of good practice, and Commissioner Rosel H. Hyde asserted: "This is not government censorship."

Ohio Anti-Red Teaching May Be Reviewed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A resolution calling for a nine-member bipartisan committee to determine if Ohio's schools, colleges and universities have adequate teaching materials to expose communism got a lukewarm reception in the House Education Committee Wednesday night.

No action was taken so the resolution will receive further hearing.

Reps. William M. Feighan, D-Cuyahoga; William J. Carney, D-Mahoning; James E. Thorpe, R-Stark; Jess Dempster, D-Tuscarawas, and L. G. Kerns, R-Union, sponsored the resolution after some young people picketed the Statehouse, protesting U. S. involvement in the recent Cuban invasion.

The resolution says "the people of Ohio were shocked to witness and universities in the State of Ohio in support of the Communist tyrant, Fidel Castro, and condemning the United States for supporting freedom's cause in the Western Hemisphere."

Texas City Searches for Negro Rapist

ODESSA, Tex. (AP)—Police Wednesday night arrested every Negro male between the ages of 17 and 20 they found on the streets of this West Texas city for investigation in the rape of a white girl while her terrified sister lay in the same bed.

Police Capt. Fred E. Johnson said the 19-year-old victim viewed the 53 youths arrested Wednesday night and was unable to identify any of them as the man who raped her while he held a knife to her throat early Wednesday. They were released early today.

Thirty-two other Negroes in same age group were arrested Wednesday afternoon and released when the girl failed to identify any of them as her attacker.

Johnson said no charges were filed and all the youths arrested were booked for investigation. Some of them had records of rape he said, and the others were known to police to be either criminals or to have hung around with criminals.

"I don't want to hurt you," the 19-year-old girl quoted her attacker as saying. She said he held a knife to her throat while he forced her to undress and then raped her. Doctors confirmed she had been raped.

The victim's 15-year-old sister said she was awakened by the conversation and saw the knife in the man's hand. She said she pulled the covers over her head and pretended to be asleep until the man left.

Tribe Explodes In 11th Frame To Scalp Chisox

6-Run Outburst Nets 8-2 Victory, First Win for Gary Bell

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cleveland Indians exploded for six runs in the 11th inning for an 8-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox Wednesday night, giving righthander Gary Bell his first victory after losing seven in a row, four this season. Detroit retained a three-game lead in the American League by beating Washington 7-1 while second place New York defeated Kansas City 9-4.

Minnesota tied Cleveland and Baltimore for third by belting the Orioles 10-6, and Boston defeated the Los Angeles Angels 3-2.

Bell, a 16-game winner for the Tribe in 1959, took over the AL strikeout lead with 33 by fanning eight. He walked four and gave up seven hits, blanking the White Sox after Roy Siever's solo seventh homer tied it 2-2 in the fourth inning.

The Indians who scored on Vic Power's home run in the second and added an unearned marker in the fourth against starter Bob Shaw, broke loose for the big six in the 11th against reliever Frank Baumann (1-2).

Detroit made it seven out of eight behind the five-hit pitching of Jim Bunning (2-2). The slim right-hander also singled home the clincher when the Tigers broke out for four runs in the second against Ed Hobaugh (1-2).

Tex Clevenger (3-1) winning in his first appearance with the Yankees since Monday's trade with the Angels, blanked the A's with four innings of one-hit relief after they tied it 4-4 in the seventh against starter Ralph Terry. The Yankees broke it up with five runs in the eighth, with Elston Howard's double beating Bud Daley (3-4). Norm Siebern homered for the A's.

Minnesota shelled Baltimore starter Dick Hall (1-1) in a nine-run second inning. Harmon Killebrew and Billy Gardner each hit three-run homers and Zoilo Versalles hit a solo homer. Jerry Adair drove in four runs for Baltimore, three on a pair of homers.

The Red Sox were held hitless for five innings at Los Angeles, then crashed through for three runs in the sixth against Ron Moeller (0-2). Winning pitcher was Tom Brewer (3-2).

Left-hander Mike McCormick pitched his second three-hit shut-out of the season Wednesday night as San Francisco, also held to three singles, beat Pittsburgh 3-0 and retained a one-game lead in the National League race. The Giants bunched their hits for all their runs with two out in the fifth—the only inning they put a man on base.

Unbeaten southpaw Johnny Podres became the first to win five in the majors, blanking Philadelphia on five hits for a 6-0 victory by second place Los Angeles.

Cincinnati won its ninth in a row, beating St. Louis 3-2, and Milwaukee edged the Chicago Cubs 3-2.

An error by Pirate third baseman Don Hoak gave the Giants the big break after McCormick (3-1) and loser Bob Friend (4-2) had duelled through four innings of perfect pitching. Felipe Alou beat out a roller to third, and when Hoak's throw to first was wild, Alou went to second. That left first open and Friend walked Ed Bailey intentionally. Jose Pagan followed with a run-scoring single, and when center fielder Bill Verdon bobbled the hit, Bailey went to third and Pagan took second. McCormick brought them in with a single.

The Dodgers winning four in a row for the first time this season, beat Frank Sullivan (1-3). Podres, still unbeaten, gave up nothing but singles.

A two-run homer by Vada Pinson in the first inning and an RBI single by Chico Cardenas in the third beat Curt Simmons (1-2) for the Reds. Bill Henry saved it for Joey Jay (2-3) in the ninth against four pinch-hitters.

The Braves handed Cub relief ace Don Elston (4-1) his first defeat on a bases-loaded error by second baseman Don Zimmer that let in the tie-breaking run in the ninth. It was Lew Burdette's second victory in three decisions.

Liston's New Pilot Builds For Future

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—George Katz, the new manager of Sonny Liston, today looked forward to a title match between the No. 1 heavyweight contender and champion Floyd Patterson sometime in the spring of 1962.

And, in the interim, Katz said he is "all for a match between Liston and former champion Ingemar Johansson this fall "if the price is right." Championships Sports Inc. of New York expressed interest in such a match.

Katz also said that he would be happy to go to Washington if Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., asked him.

Katz, who has been managing fighters for 28 years including former welterweight challenger Gil Turner, feels his appointment as manager Wednesday under a 2½-year contract calling for a 10 per cent cut of earnings gives Liston a clean bill.

A Senate investigating committee headed by Kefauver and Patterson had demanded earlier that Liston rid himself of manager Pep Barone, of Allentown, Pa., accused of being a front for alleged underworld figures Frankie Carbo and Blinky Palermo. Liston recently bought his contract from Barone for $75,000.

Patterson had said that before he would agree to a match with Liston the challenger would have to get himself a manager who would meet with the approval of the Kefauver committee.

Palmer Favored In Colonial Test

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—The $40,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament opens today with Arnold Palmer favored and with prospects of the most furious onslaught on par in the event's 15 years.

The touring golfers showed the 7,041-yard Colonial Country Club course could be had Wednesday when they posted 15 sub-par rounds, headed by Doug Ford's record-smashing 6-under-par 64.

Palmer didn't play the course but he remained a 61 favorite for the $7,000 first money although he never has finished higher than twelfth in his six years of participation here.

Al Geiberger, Bill Collins and Deane Beman had 67s and seven players, including Don January, who had a hole-in-one, posted 68s.

Racing Panel Studies Toledo Trot Meeting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Racing Commission has not decided if Ohio will have another session of harness racing on its 1961 horse race calendar. The commission Wednesday told Zoltan Gombos, who wants harness dates at Lucas County Fairgrounds, that he will have to make formal application before the commission can rule.

The Wood Memorial was named after Eugene Wood, one of the founders of Jamaica race track, now extinct. It was first run in 1925.

Liberty-Union Downs Broncos

Champs Get 7 Runs Early in Contest

A bad opening two innings spelled doom for Ashville's state high school baseball tournament chances yesterday as they lost to defending state champion Liberty-Union, 9-0, on the Bronco diamond.

In winning their 24th straight game in two seasons, Liberty-Union picked up a trio of runs in the top of the first frame. They added four more in the second on three Bronco fielding errors and a triple by Messer to all but wrap up the contest.

LU hurler Jim Reed held the Broncos hitless until the sixth when leadoff man Tom Rathburn belted a single. His teammates failed to advance him beyond first.

Bainter got the only other Ashville blow, a two - out seventh inning single. He also was stranded at first.

BRONCO Coach Russ Gregg said that "Bad breaks in those first innings killed us. You can't let a team like that get far ahead of you early. Our boys tried hard, but we couldn't come back."

The big factor in the Broncos' loss from Gregg's standpoint was the six Ashville errors. Most of the mistakes came early in the tilt and helped give Liberty-Union its seven-run lead.

LU picked up single tallies in the fifth and sixth stanzas to complete scoring.

Rathburn, Ashville's pitcher, struck out nine opponents while allowing only one walk.

Reed, who handled the mound chores for Liberty - Union, fanned 13 batters and issued four free passes.

Ashville, now holding a 9-1 won-lost tally, faces West Jefferson today in a Darby Valley League scrap on the Broncos' home field.

Liberty Union will take the next step toward the state finals and a possible second crown in a meeting with the winner of the Newark Catholic - Iberia contest Saturday in a semi - final bout at Newark's 'Y' Park.

Carter Sets Aim In New Pin Title

DETROIT (AP) — If Don Carter wins the $75,000 Professional Bowlers Association Invitational Tournament that opens today in Paramus, N. J., they'll have to vent new worlds for him to conquer.

The 34-year-old St. Louis ace Wednesday night won the one major title that had eluded him — the American Bowling Congress masters championship.

"This is the one I wanted, said mild-mannered Don after defeating Dick Hoover of St. Louis, 888-826, in four games for the crown in a sensational battle.

Carter, five times "bowler of the year, had won the National All-Star Tournament four times, the Worlds Invitational three times and the first PBA Open last fall.

The Pittsburgh Pirates enjoyed their best success last season against Cincinnati, winning 16 of the 22 games played.

Big League Teams Reduce Rosters

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

About two dozen major league expendables — rookies who failed to win regular berths and old-timers whose talents weren't badly needed—went to join minor league clubs today as the big league teams passed the cutdown date.

As of today, only 25 players may be carried on major league rosters until after Aug. 31, when the limit goes up to 40 until the opening of the next season. The 18 major clubs have been optioning, selling and trading their surplus for several days and there was a final flurry Wednesday night just before the deadline.

The Washington Senators and Chicago White Sox, who opened the season a day earlier than the others, had to make the cut Tuesday, since the limit is 30 days from the opening.

The White Sox then picked up Wes Covington from Milwaukee and had to make another cut. The Boston Red Sox and Chicago Cubs got down to the 25 man limit the same day.

Here's how the others trimmed their rosters:

National League
St. Louis Cardinals—Traded outfielder Bob Nieman to Cleveland for Joe Morgan; assigned Morgan and George Crowe, pinch hitter, to San Juan, International League.
San Francisco Giants—Optioned rookie second baseman Ernie Bowman and outfielder Bob Farley to Tacoma, Pacific Coast League.

Los Angeles Dodgers—Removed relief pitcher Ed Palmquist from roster.

Pittsburgh Pirates—Sold pitcher Tom Cheney to Columbus IL.
Philadelphia Phillies — Optioned infielder Bob Sadowski to Buffalo, IL.

Milwaukee Braves — Sent outfielder Wes Covington to Chicago White Sox on waivers, optioned rookie catcher Phil Roof to Yakima, Northwest League.

Cincinnati Reds — Unconditionally released veteran infielder Willie Jones; sold pitcher Claude Osteen and outfielder Harry Anderson to Indianapolis, American

Used Records, Maybe?

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Edward A. Rath was elected county executive after serving several years as Erie County comptroller. After his campaign headquarters closed, the Main Street location was occupied by a phonograph record firm called, appropriately enough, "Budget Records."

Three touchdown passes by Ohio State's Tom Matte in last year's Indiana game was the best one-game record on Big Ten scoring passes last season.

Trainer Milton Rinke says the first time he set foot on a thoroughbred race track he picked six winners.

Holler-Guy Not Needed By Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP) — Manager Fred Hutchinson has his Cincinnati Reds riding high despite the lack of the holler-guy he looked for in spring training.

After Wednesday night's 3 - 2 victory over St. Louis, Hutch said he couldn't pinpoint any one player who had rallied the Reds back to winning ways.

"No one thing, no one individual," he said. "A batter slips into a slump—somebody picks it up. And the pitching has been excellent."

The Reds have nine triumphs in a row, longest streak in the National League this season.

A lot more fans came to Crosley field—10,144 on a chilly evening Wednesday night — and the well wishers and autograph seekers jammed the ramp under the grandstand after the games waiting for the Reds players.

Ten days ago when the Reds were in their nosedive — eight losses in a row — the area from the bench to the clubhouse was relatively deserted.

Joey Jay won his second Wednesday night but had some rocky moments. He gave up six hits and five walks in seven innings.

The Reds left 11 men stranded and couldn't score after the third inning. The Cards left nine on base and scored only in the fourth inning.

Jay loaded the bases in the seventh before retiring the side and Hutchinson put in Marshall Bridges to open the eighth.

Bridges walked the first two men he faced. But catcher Bob Schmidt picked off one Cardinal at second and Vada Pinson sparring a line drive, doubled the other at first.

The bullpen - rich Hutchinson, however, sent in Bill Henry for the last inning. He struck out the side.

Association; obtained first baseman Dick Gernert from Detroit.
Chicago Cubs — Reached limit earlier in week.

American League
Minnesota Twins — Unconditionally released outfielder Pete Whisenant.

Cleveland Indians — Optioned pitcher Don Schaeffer to Salt Lake City, PCL.

Los Angeles Angels—Sent pitcher Ray Sempach to Toronto, IL; sold first baseman Julio Becquer to Buffalo, IL.

Baltimore Orioles — Optioned catcher Frank Zupo to Rochester, IL; cut one other player withheld announcement of his name until today.

New York Yankees—Sold pitcher Ted Wiaend and optioned outfielder Jack Reed, both to Richmond, IL.

Detroit Tigers — Traded first baseman-outfielder Dick Gernert to Cincinnati for infielder Jim Baumer and cash; optioned Baumer, veteran catcher Harry Chiti and rookie pitcher Joe Grzenda to Denver, American Association.

Kansas City Athletics—Optioned Leo Posada, outfielder, to Shreveport, Southern Association.
Boston — Reached limit earlier in week.

Gals Loop Paced By Jean Crider

Jeanie Crider hit a 173 singles game and 447 series to lead both departments in the latest Buffalo Gals league bowling at Prairie Lanes.

Helen Burns took runnerup spot in individual competition with a 172 total.

The Dailey Meats quintet topped team singles action with a 642 mark, while Black's Auto Shop maintained their first-place lead with the high three-game count of 1,866.

Doris Wiggins picked up the 2-7 split and Donna Leist the 3-10.

Italian Retains Welter Crown

MILAN (AP) — Diulio Loi, a rugged little Italian who said he fought this one "for beauty and not the purse," pondered retirement from 13 years of fighting today after retaining his world junior welterweight title with a 15-round decision over Carlos Ortiz of New York.

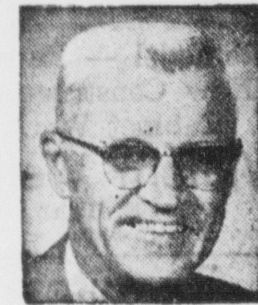

"I never trained so hard for a fight before," Loi grinned after building a big lead over the 24-year-old Puerto Rican-born ex-champ, then surviving a last round knockdown to nail an undisputed, unanimous decision in their "rubber" match.

"I didn't want this victory for the purse. I badly needed it to end my career in beauty—with a triumph."

Eddie Boyer Drives Winner at Lebanon

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — With a fast track for the first time in four nights of racing, Golden Gift paced off the best time of the meeting — 2:12 2-5 — winning the feature mile at Lebanon Raceway Wednesday night.

The 6-year-old roan, driven by veteran Eddie Boyer of Washington Court House, broke in the lead and held it all the way, topping second place Gimmigan by two lengths at the wire. It was the first victory in four starts this year for Golden Gift, who paid $5.60.

In Memoriam

IN MEMORY OF OUR HUSBAND AND FATHER MR. ROY ENGLAND. There's an open gate at the end of the road. Through which each must go alone. And there is a light we cannot see. Our Father claims His own. Beyond the gate your loved one finds happiness and rest. And there is comfort in the thought, That our loving God knows best.

Sadly missed, Wife and Family.

1. Card of Thanks

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks and appreciation to all those who sent flowers, cards, food and to the many neighbors, friends, relatives and everyone who contributed to the comfort of our husband and father during his illness and death.

Tigers Take 3rd In SCO Contest

Circleville's Tiger tracksters were nosed out of first place in the final two events and finished third in a field of eight teams in the annual South Central Ohio League meet yesterday at Greenfield.

The Tigers' 46½ points was topped by Wilmington's 54 and Washington's 55½.

CHS coach John Current commented that he was "very pleased" with the showing of the youthful Tiger squad, particularly the freshmen and sophomores.

"The thing that hurt us most in our bid for top spot," Current noted, "was the failure of the last five teams to stop Washington and Wilmington at all."

PLEASANT View had 19 points to take fourth position. Miami Trace (18), Franklin Heights (16), Hillsboro (15) and Greenfield McClain (0) rounded out the final tabulations.

Two league records fell during the meet. Earl Crosswhite (WCH), ran the 880-yard dash in 2:05, shaving six seconds from the old mark.

Nance (Wil) sprinted the 220 in 22 seconds flat, paring a half-second from the previous low. Skip Hanson of Circleville finished third in this event in 22.6 time.

Alex Cook won two first-place finishes for CHS. He took top spot in the 120-yard high hurdles in 16.6 time, and ran the 180 low hurdles in 21.6.

Rupert Reid placed first in the discus throw with a toss of 129' 10" and finished second in shot put competition with a 45' 5" throw.

Reichmanis took third in the shot put for the Tigers with a 44' 8" effort.

THIS was the final competition this season for the CHS tracksters. Coach Current concluded that "The season has been highly successful, and with most of our boys returning, we look for big things next year."

Army Pvt. Lawrence Byrd Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Byrd Sr., 373 Weldon Ave., recently participated in Exercise Thunder Bolt, a nine-day joint Army-Air Force training exercise at Fort Hood, Tex.

Participating units were rated on their capability to operate over wide frontages on independent forces under simulated nuclear and limited warfare conditions. The exercise was designed to test the effectiveness of the ground and air forces involved and culminated a year's training.

Byrd, a tank crewman in Company A of the 1st Armored Division's 1st Cavalry at Fort Hood, entered the Army in August 1960.

The 18-year-old soldier attended Circleville High School prior to entering the Army.

Ashville Student To Be Member of All Ohio Band

Tom Cline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Cline, Ashville, has been accepted as a member of the All Ohio Boys Band.

The 300 musician band, under the direction of Dr. Louis Pete, Ashland, meets at the Ohio State Fairgrounds one week before the Ohio State Fair begins.

The high school musicians spend eight hours a day in preparation for concert appearances presented during the Fair. The band also rehearses for radio and television shows to be presented during Fair Week.

Cline plays the cornet and various percussion instruments. He has also participated as a soloist and as a member of ensembles with the school band at district and state contests.

Police Cancel Search For 'Man with Gun'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "There's a man with a gun at 90 W. Gay St.," an excited voice on the telephone told police radio dispatchers Wednesday.

Immediately, two cruisers were sent to the scene. The call was canceled quickly.

Red-faced dispatchers realized there are many men with guns at 90 W. Gay St. It's police headquarters.

Oldest Survivor

TAYLORVILLE, Ill. (AP) —D. D. Sharp, 90, is believed to be the oldest living survivor of the Alaskan Gold Rush of 1893.

Although he did not strike it rich, Sharp found enough gold by panning to keep going.

And once in a while, he would saw lumber for a little money and earned about $20 a week. Eggs were $12 a dozen, and tobacco was $5 a pound, he recalls.

"the sweetest spot in town"

KINDA CROWDED, WEREN'T YOU, ALAN?—This is the interior of the Freedom 7 space capsule which carried Astronaut Alan B. Shepard 302 miles through space from Cape Canaveral, Fla. Returned to its starting place, the Freedom 7 appeared to be in condition for another space voyage any time, but it probably will be placed in whatever Space Age Hall of Fame the U. S. decides to set up.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Cloudiness developed over Ohio Wednesday night in time to prevent any frost formation.

Early morning temperatures today ranged from 38 at Youngstown to 43 at Columbus and 55 at Chesapeake.

A low pressure area over Georgia caused rain as close to Ohio as Kentucky and West Virginia this morning. Ohio skies will continue rather cloudy today and there is a chance the rain will move up the Ohio River tonight.

The cloudiness is forecast to continue on Friday, and it will be slightly warmer.

Low temperatures tonight will be mostly near 50, and Friday's highs will be in the 70s.

More than half of all homicide victims are slain by firearms.

Dramatic Movie Film Shows Astronaut's Facial Expression

WASHINGTON (AP) — The man's eyes darted from side to side. His chest heaved. His helmeted head bent forward to look through a porthole. A strap of his spacesuit waved in the air like a piece of seaweed.

This was Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr., America's first astronaut, viewed by a movie camera inside his capsule as he rode 115 miles into space last Friday from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The dramatic film was shown for the first time Wednesday before an audience of congressmen and many of their office workers who crowded into the House caucus room.

The first and last parts of the film, showing the Redstone rocket's liftoff and the landing at sea of the capsule, almost duplicated television coverage on the spot last Friday.

But the footage taken from inside during the flight gave the viewer some sense of what it is like to lie strapped in a tiny cabin fastened to the tip of a roaring, flame-spouting 83-foot missile.

Shepard's face sagged a bit under the force of up to 10 times normal gravity at liftoff and reentry. Vertical lines of concentration appeared between his brows.

His eyes flicked back and forth like those of a man trapped—but this was a deceptive impression because the film showed his movement four times faster than they actually occurred.

This gave the appearance of an oldtime silent movie, with Shepard shown moving jerkily and much too fast. His arms reached out to touch switches and guidance controls. He bent forward abruptly to peer out of his porthole.

That was when he exclaimed "What a beautiful sight," the narrator said.

The strap waving in the air showed the period of weightlessness Shepard experienced for several minutes at the top of his ride.

As the capsule spiraled down to the sea at the end, sunlight repeatedly lit up the interior as the porthole rotated. This was according to plan.
